Choosing an Orphan Wife.

At the far end of Naples lies the little church of Santa Maria Annunziata, which, once a year, on the "Day of Our Lady," wakes up into a brief life and excitement. In a silent row before the high altar kneel 30 girls, all in black garments, with folded hands and eyes fixed on the picture of the madonna before them. These are orphans from the neighboring foundling asylum, and once a year all those who have reached the age of 18 are brought here to the church and may be chosen in marriage by any honest man whose papers are in order and whose character is good.

At the door leading to the sacristy leans a gray headed priest, the head of the asylum. By and by a young man makes his way from the back door of the church and hands him a little packet of papers. These the priest reads carefully, and being evidently satisfied he gives back the papers and leads the candidate toward the row of girls. All their eyes are fixed more steadily than ever on the altar; all their hands are clasped tighter together; their faces turn a shade paler; their hearts beat quicker as the young man walks slowly along the row. At last he stops. His choice is made.

The girl rises, casts a long look—half thanks, half entreaty—at the picture of the madonna, puts her hand into that of the stranger, and together they disappear into the sacristy.—Boston Transcript.

Arsenic In Cotton Prints.

The very considerable uneasiness which not long since prevailed in the public mind from the supposed free use of arsenic by manufacturers in the preparation of cotton prints has, it would seem, been generally quieted, and though it is true that a large proportion of such goods contain arsenic the quantity is so small as to be practically harmless. Many of the anilines, it is asserted, such as ceruleine blue, aniline greens, etc., and many of the vegetable colors, are fixed on calico with a salt of alumina and a solution of white arsenic in glycerin or in a borax solution.

The reaction that takes place on steaming the goods is a double compound of arsenic, alumina and coloring matter, or, briefly, double arseniate of alumina and dye. This compound constitutes the insoluble "lake," which colors the fibers of the cloth with a more or less insoluble and fast color. This at once removes any danger in the wearing of the material. Indeed it is asserted as a matter of fact that aniline colors contain a considerable excess of alumina, and this is a preventive against the possible presence of uncombined arsenic. In extract alizarine colors the soluble arseniate of alumina is in some instances added by manufacturers for the purpose of giving to the colors a greater degree of brightness, but on steaming the insoluble compound is obtained, as before described.—New York Sun.

How the Chinese Emperor Receives.

The account of the audience of the new German minister to Peking with the emperor of China, given by a native paper, states that the minister, accompanied by his interpreter, appeared at the Tsungli Yamen at 8 a. m. His excellency was escorted by Prince Ching through the "Porcelain Gate" of the palace. After waiting for 20 minutes, he proceeded to the throne hall, where the emperor was seated. Inside the throne hall and "before the presence" the ministerial party made a low bow. This was done again as soon as they had arrived at the Dragon Pillar, some distance from the throne, where they stood still.

The German minister presented his credentials, marching up to the foot of the dais as he did so and making a short speech, which was translated into Chinese. Prince Ching hastened down the dais to receive the credentials and placed them on the yellow table before the emperor. The German minister made another low bow, and then returned to his first position at the Dragon Pillar. His majesty replied in a short speech, which was translated into German, and the party retired.—London Daily News.

A Slight Mistake.

A gentleman desiring to inform a young lady, who lives in one of the suburbs, of his intention to make a visit, called up her residence by telephone the other afternoon. For some reason or other he had difficulty in hearing and making himself understood. He worked for a long time, but finally the dawn seemed to break, and he heard plainly the voice of a female say very irritably, "Well, what do you want?" The noise in the street was so great that he desired to close the window before proceeding, so he said, "Just hold the telephone for a minute or two." But he didn't have time to leave before the voice said in a more irritable manner: "You go to the dickens. I've a pie in the oven." It was the cook.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Swinburne and Jowett.

Professor Jowett one day asked Mr. Swinburne, for whom he afterward entertained much regard, how much poetry he had written in his life, and on being told by the youthful poet that at 16 he had burned all he had written replied, "And when you are 60 I suppose you will burn all the rest."—London Exchange.

THE AFTERNOON NAP.

Its Necessity an Indication That the System Is Demoralized.

For the healthy the nap in the afternoon is not necessary, and the brain will not demand it. If a man finds himself napping at that time, either he has eaten too much at his midday meal or his cerebral circulation is feeble.

It is the universal habit of the pig that is being fattened to sleep in his sty after his midday meal. The working horse, on the other hand, which gets nothing at midday but a feed of corn—a small but highly nutritious meal—does not sleep at all after it, but is fresh and ready for work in half an hour.

One would like to persuade all literary workers to work in the day and sleep at night. They should never go for more than eight hours a day. Early rising would be good for most of them. A cup of coffee and a piece of toast at 6:30 o'clock might be followed by an hour's work from 7 to 8 o'clock. The whole hour between 8 and 9 should be devoted to a thoroughly good breakfast and a short walk. Work from 9 to 12.

Half an hour should then be spent in gentle sauntering in the fresh air, and a light lunch should follow—say a chop and bread, with a modicum of light pudding. From 1 to 2 a pipe and a saunter, and at 2 a cup of black coffee. From 2 to 4, work; at 4 a cup of afternoon tea and a rest until 5. From 5 to 6 or half past, work, and at 6:30 the real labor of the day should be over and completed.

At 7 a good, well cooked, appetizing, slowly eaten dinner, followed by one cup of black coffee, but no tea. At 10:45 a small cup of cocoa and one or two pieces of toast. At 11, bed, and sleep until 6 or 6:30. The brain worker should not work more than five days a week in this fashion. He should have two days of leisure in the week.

The first of these should be devoted to brisk and thoroughly fatiguing exercise in the open air, and the second to lolling, lounging, a little light reading and the like. This is the kind of life which physiology would suggest for the brain worker, and in this "scheme of life" there is neither place nor necessity for the afternoon nap.—Hospital.

A Singular Lease.

A Biddeford attorney had in his possession a lease the like of which local lawyers do not believe can be found in existence. The names of the parties to the lease are given, but its provisions are none the less strange. The lease is of a lot of land at an annual rental of $440 for 25 years, with the provision that the lessee should within one year build and maintain a substantial three story building of brick, iron and stone. When the lease expired, the lessee was to have his choice between buying the building he had himself erected or of taking a perpetual lease of the lot at $880 a year, just double the original rent. The lease expired a year or so ago, and the lessee, to whom it was a case of "Hobson's choice," elected to take the perpetual lease of the lot. What puzzles the attorneys who have seen the lease is why a man of the property which the lessee must have been possessed should bind himself to such a one sided condition. The gentleman who has the lease intends to present it to the Bar Library association.—Kennebec Journal.

Her Dream Came True.

A bashful youth of some 20 summers was paying his addresses to a young lady who had long since despaired of bringing things to a crisis. One night he called, and they sat in the gloaming, their hearts pulsating with the tender passion. After settling the merits of the weather the girl looked shyly into the face of her timid lover and exclaimed:

"I dreamed of you last night, John."

"Did you? Why, now!"

"Yes, I dreamed that you kissed me."

"Why, now, what did you dream your mother said?"

"Oh, I dreamed that she was away from home."

A light dawned upon the young man's intellect. A singular sound broke the surrounding stillness, and in less than a month they will be married.—Memphis Commercial.

Claiming His Acquaintance.

The following story was told by the earl of Kintore at a recent Masonic banquet in Sydney: "One day shortly after my arrival in South Australia a gentleman came across the road and said, 'I am real pleased to see you.' On my appearing not to recognize him he exclaimed, 'Why, don't you know me?' To which I said, 'No; when did we last meet?' Scratching his head, my friend continued, 'I suppose it's a long time ago, but I well remember meeting your father and mother on the day they came from church after getting married.'"

A Useful Legislator.

"Your husband must be a very silent man, madame. Though he has been a member of parliament for some years, he has never yet opened his mouth in the chamber."

"Oh, he's not as silent as you think. It is he who makes all those 'asides' which you read about in the parliamentary reports in the newspapers."—Paris Gaulois.

BEAUTIFUL AMBER.

Its Original Formation, Process of Evolution and Preservative Qualities.

In many museums may be seen in the most perfect state of preservation in amber fossilized remains of plants and animals. The science of Egypt in its highest development did not succeed in discovering a method of embalming so perfect as the simple process taking place in nature. A tree exudes a gummy, resinous matter in a liquid state. An insect accidently alights in it and is caught. The exudation continues and envelopes it completely, preserving the most minute details of its structure. In the course of time the resin becomes a fossil and is known as amber. The history of fossil insects is largely indebted to the fly in amber, and to the preserving properties of amber we owe likewise our knowledge of some of the more minute details of ancient plant structure.

The coasts of the Baltic are and have been from the days of Phœnician traders the great source of the amber of commerce. It occurs in rolled fragments in strata known to geologists as oligocene. These are tertiary rocks of a date a little more recent than those of the London basin and equivalent to the younger tertiary series of the isle of Wight. The fragments of fossil resin were washed down by the rivers from the pine forests of the district along with sediments and vegetable debris. In them are found most perfectly preserved remains of the most delicate tissues of the vegetation of the period, as well as of insect life. Fragments of twigs, leaves, buds and flowers with sepals, petals, stamens and pistil still in place occur. Pollen grains have likewise been found. A recent genus, deutzia, has been recognized by its characteristic stamens. The valves of the anthers of cinnamomum are seen in others. In one specimen the pendant catkin of a species of oak is seen as distinctly through the clear amber as if it were a fresh flower.

And besides the insect and plant remains thus sealed up in amber, stray relics of the higher fauna of the forest have also been met with. Fragments of hair and feathers have been caught in the sticky resin and preserved. Among others a woodpecker and squirrel have been recognized in the Baltic amber.—Gentleman's Magazine.

A Curious Kind of Fraud.

A rogue with the unmanageable name of Shunkernath Wishwumbernatli has been convicted in Bombay and sentenced by Mr. Justice Starling to five years' penal servitude for a curious sort of fraud. It seems that he had, by certain skillful feats of jugglery, to the accompaniment of cabalistic acts and utterances, persuaded a man named Hurribux that he was able to make duplicates of currency notes to any extent.

Hurribux, being one afternoon intrusted by the cashier of his master's firm with 10,000 rupees in notes to carry to another firm, bethought him of this magician, and accompanied by a Brahman and another he repaired to the house where he had seen the miracle performed. Here, as before, numerous mystic ceremonies were gone through, ending in the handing over to Hurribux and his companion of certain pieces of paper, which they were to expose to the sun. Nothing important, however, came of this, but the wizard, having reassured his visitors, retired into a room to "make it all right." This, as the sequel showed, meant making off by a back door with the rupee notes.—London Daily News.

Modern Use of the Stage.

The means resorted to in this modern age by some business houses to advertise their wares becomes at times almost farcical. For instance, a theatrical company recently playing in the city is carrying a particular make of safe as part of its outfit. The safe is advertised on the programme as conspicuously as the players' names themselves and in a special act is shown on the stage with the maker's name in large letters across the door. It plays no part whatever in the act, except that at one period of the performance the actor makes an agonized stride in its direction, but it is never referred to. It speaks for itself and speaks loudly. In fact, when the rather tame scene is concluded, the conviction is forced upon the spectator that the act is specially arranged to advertise the safe.—Buffalo Express.

Praying by Machinery.

Praying by machinery is usual among the inhabitants of central Asia. A large, hollow, cylinderlike drum is erected, and within it are inclosed the prayers that any one may wish to offer, written out neatly. The cylinder is then made to revolve by wind or water power, and every time that it goes round the devotee imagines to be equivalent to a verbal repetition of all the prayers it contains.—Asiatic Quarterly.

A Expensive Skin Manipulator.

During the recent trial of a skin manipulator in Great Britain, expert evidence proved that the active ingredient in a popular lotion is corrosive sublimate, and that the cost of the preparation, which is sold for $2.50 a bottle, was exactly 1 cent.—Joe Howard.

SEEING BY ELECTRICITY.

A Scientific Achievement That May Come to Pass In the Future.

We can write by electricity, can send pictures and designs by the same agency and talk to our friends at a distance by means of the electric wire. When the British association visited Newcastle, Professor Perry told his auditors that seeing by electricity was a possibility of the future, and he had shortly before drawn a picture of scientific achievements which would enable friends divided by large continents and oceans not only to talk with each other, but to look upon their features. Even before that Professor Bell is known to have been at work in his laboratory endeavoring to solve the problem, and though 10 years have elapsed since the possibility of applying the well known principles of light in the same way as the principles of sound have been applied in the telephone was first suggested, the professor is still as hopeful of success as ever.

There is no theoretical reason why light may not be conducted in the same way as sound, but Professor Bell tells us that it will be very much more difficult to construct an apparatus for the purpose, owing to the immensely greater rapidity with which the vibrations of light take place when compared with the vibrations of sound. The difficulty, however, is merely one of finding a diaphragm sufficiently sensitive to receive these vibrations and produce the corresponding electrical vibrations, and it is encouraging to have it on the authority of such a man as Professor Bell that at least a dozen men, eminent in science in various parts of the world, are at present engaged in endeavoring to find the solution of this problem. Professor Bell himself, who has never ceased to grapple with the difficulty, candidly admits that up to the present his labors have been in vain, but he is full of hopefulness as to the successful issue of his own research as well as that of the other scientists who have taken the matter up.—Newcastle (England) Chronicle.

A Great Climax.

"I've seen a good many funny snaps in the way of plays and play actors in my time," said the advance agent, "but one I struck out in Milwaukee the other day was by far the best of anything I have been up against. It was in one of the museums there. The museum has a stock company in its theater, and its great specialty is border drama. Every week they give a new drama of the wild and wooly west.

"This play that I saw was a blood curdler of that character, and at the time I arrived at the theater the stage was pitch dark, and two men were fighting a duel. I could hear the knives clash together and hear the men stumble around the stage, but I could but faintly distinguish the forms of the actors. After awhile there was a thump on the floor and the villain (I knew it was the villain by his accent) hissed: 'Ah, ha! Rudolph Tegherington, I have you now and no one nigh to see me do the deed!'

"Then the drummer hit the bass drum a belt, and the calcium man turned on the light, and away up on top of a rocky pass a woman (the heroine) was seen standing. 'Coward!' she shouted, 'me and heaven is here!'"—Buffalo Express.

Etiquette of a Practical Sort.

A housewife of the east end concluded that the only solution of the servant girl problem was to teach a green girl herself. She had had experience with girls who thought they knew something, with no success. Accordingly she engaged a girl from the country, who professed to know nothing, and commenced training her. One of the new servant's duties was to attend the door, and the lady of the house tried in many ways to impress upon her mind the necessity of taking a tray or salver with her when she answered the bell to receive cards, letters, etc. During the afternoon the bell rang, and shortly afterward the servant appeared at her mistress' door saying, "If you please, ma'am, the vegetable man is at the door and wants to know if you want any good potatoes." The lady looked up from her sewing and then fell into a fit of laughter. The servant was standing as she had been taught, holding the silver tray with three large potatoes on it in the most proper manner. The servant's sense of the fitness of things was evidently undeveloped.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Dynamite.

Dynamite is simply nitroglycerin mixed with various ingredients. Nitroglycerin is made by mixing sulphuric and nitric acid with sweet glycerin, the same that is used by the ladies to prevent chapped hands. Mixing the acids and glycerin is where the great danger lies in the making of nitroglycerin. The other ingredients for making dynamite are nitrate of soda, which is found only in Chili; carbonate of magnesia and wood pulp.—Exchange.

Out of Harm's Way.

"What the deuce are you doing on the top of that tree, Mike? Don't you know that it's being cut down?"

Mike—Yes, your honor. The last toime ye had a tree cut down it fell on top of me, and, begorra, I'll be safe this toime."—London Tit Bits.

THE court-room at Fresno during the trial of Chris. Evans continues to be crowded with people anxious to hear the testimony.

THERE is only one woman among the 363 convicts in the Oregon penitentiary. She was sent to serve a sentence for cutting a harness to pieces.

IT is stated at Chicago that Wells, Fargo & Co., for a cash bonus of $1,700,000 and 40 per cent. of the gross receipts, has secured a new contract with the Southern Pacific Company.

THE survey of a railroad line from Cloverdale to Geyser Springs, Sonoma county, has been completed. The engineers say that the road will go through a canyon most of the way, gradually climbing higher until the Geysers are reached. It will twist and turn and grand scenery will be in view at all times for the traveler the entire distance of the road, which will be about thirty miles.

AN electrician of Los Angeles named Lundberg has discovered that a solution of water and sal ammoniac, or chloride of ammonia, is very effective in destroying the San Jose red and black scale bugs. The wash is very cheap, the cost being in fact almost nominal, and it is applied with an ordinary spraying pump. This, if it will accomplish what the inventor claims, is a most important discovery for our fruit-growers and knocks out the expensive washes, even better than the bugs.

A WASHINGTON dispatch says the general drift of opinion among the Democratic members of the House seems to be that the Tariff bill must be passed and as speedily as possible. There are some who say that they will make an attempt to have it modified in certain points in the interest of their constituents, but, failing in that, will vote for the bill. It is understood to be the intention not to allow much time for debate, even if the cloture has to be applied, with the object of getting the measure before the Senate as quickly as possible.

"KEEP it out of the paper" is the cry which the newspaper publisher daily hears. To oblige often costs considerable, though the party who makes the request does not realize it, says "The Newspaper Man." A newspaper is a peculiar piece of property in the public's eye. The news gatherer is stormed at because he gets hold of one item, and is abused because he does not get another. Young men and often young women, as well as older persons, perform acts which become legitimate items for publication, and then rush to the newspaper office to beg the editor not to notice their escapades. The next day they condemn the same paper for not having published another party doing the same thing they were guilty of, forgetting, apparently, their late visit to the printing office. The subscribers expect to read the news and there is always wonder when any of these items fail to appear in the next issue.

Ordinance No. 44.

An Ordinance to amend Section 7 of an ordinance No. 33, entitled "An Ordinance to Establish a Board of Health in and for the City of Sonoma, and to Regulate the Burial of the Dead," and to add two new sections thereto, to be known as Sections 10 and 11.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Sonoma do ordain as follows:

Section 7. Section 7 of ordinance No. 33 is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

A sexton shall be appointed by said Board for the term of one year, who shall have charge of the Mountain Cemetery. He shall have the sole right to dig graves and bury the dead in said Cemetery, except as hereinafter otherwise provided, and he may charge for burying the body of an adult person a sum not exceeding Ten Dollars; for burying of the body of a child under ten years a sum not exceeding Seven and-a-half Dollars, and for burying the body of a child under five years a sum not exceeding Five Dollars; however, provided, that when a person has died in poor circumstances, any relation, friend or neighbor of such deceased person may dig such grave and bury such body with the permission of the Cemetery Committee or a member thereof, but no such permission shall be granted except upon due investigation had and good cause having been shown therefor.

It shall not be lawful for the Sexton to dig a grave nearer than one foot to any road, alley or avenue, nor nearer than three feet to any other grave, or the enclosure of a grave, or burial plat, except inside of such inclosure; nor to commence digging a grave in any locality and leaving such grave unfinished without filling it up again; nor to bury the body of a deceased person, unless he has sufficient proof that the person applying has first obtained from the City Clerk the burial permit mentioned in the preceding section. It shall be the duty of the Sexton to exercise all needful authority for the order and preservation of said Mountain Cemetery under such rules and regulations as said Board of Trustees may from time to time prescribe, either by Ordinance or Resolution, and to report to said Board of Trustees any infraction of Ordinances relating to said Mountain Cemetery now in force, or which may hereafter be enacted.

Section 10. No person shall take, claim or inclose more ground for burial purposes in said Mountain Cemetery than twenty feet square, except with the permission of the cemetery committee, or a member thereof, and whenever any person desires to select a new burial place, other than in a family plat the applicant or Sexton shall first notify the cemetery committee or a member thereof, who shall view the ground and decide of its proper location. Any person not residing within the City of Sonoma may select a burial plat according to the foregoing provision and acquire the right of burial in such plat of the bodies of his or her relatives or family upon paying to the City Clerk, in advance, for the benefit of said city, a sum of money at the rate of Five Dollars for each grave which such plat may have room for, together with the sum of One Dollar for making out the proper certificate, however, provided that such plat or plats shall not be greater than twenty feet square on its equivalent in any other shape; And such burial plat or lot shall be forever inalienable and not transferable by deed, will or otherwise.

Section 11. It shall not be lawful to place the body of a person, who has died of a contagious or infectious disease, in the public vault or in any private vault of the Mountain Cemetery, but all such bodies shall be buried under ground immediately.

Non-residents of Sonoma Valley, County of Sonoma, may place bodies in said public vault upon payment to the City Clerk of One Dollar per month for the body of an adult person and Fifty Cents per month for the body of a child under ten years of age.

When the body of a person who has died in Sonoma Valley, but not in Sonoma City, shall be placed in said public vault for the purpose of removal therefrom to some other place or cemetery, no charge shall be made for a burial place.

Not more than five caskets in all shall be allowed in said public vault, and whenever an additional casket is to be placed therein, the body having been the longest time in said public vault, shall be removed therefrom, and it shall be the duty of the City Clerk to notify the party at whose request such body was deposited in said public vault to remove the same therefrom and bury it under ground. In case of failure or neglect to comply with such request such body shall be taken out of said public vault and buried by the City of Sonoma at the expense of the heirs or the party at whose request such body had been deposited in said public vault, and the City of Sonoma may recover the amount of such expenses and the costs in a suit instituted in the Recorder's Court of the City of Sonoma against the party liable therefor.

No bodies shall be admitted in said public vault and remain therein for a longer time than made necessary by the inclemency of the weather, or for such length of time as the Cemetery Committee, or a member thereof, upon application may grant, except such as have been embalmed or are enclosed in a metallic casket.

This Ordinance shall take effect immediately.

In Board of Trustees finally passed the 6th day of December, 1893.

Attest:
F. BREITENBACH, City Clerk.

A street lamp-post and lamp have been erected on the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway depot grounds by the city. With commendable generosity President Foster and Superintendent Corbaley have assumed the expense of lighting the lamp and keeping it in repair. This improvement will prove of great advantage to our people during the dark, stormy nights of winter.

"The editor is sick, the 'devil' is cross, the type has been 'pied,' the composing rules have been misplaced, scissors lost, the tramp printer gives us the 'G. B.,' our paper came late and was marked C. O. D.," says a Texas editor. "Consequently we are all out of 'whack' and behind time, darn it all, and if you feel like cussin' us, just wait till the fightin' editor gets in better shape."

The weather the past week has been the most delightful ever experienced in this valley during the month of December. The days have been sunny and pleasant while the nights have been as mild as a June evening. The hills surrounding the town, feeling the effects of the fine growing weather, have already put on a mantle of green, much to the delight of browsing cattle and horses. Plowing and seeding has commenced. The farming and dairying interest of Sonoma Valley never looked brighter, in so far as the weather is concerned, than at the present time.

Since the recent rain duck shooting in the tules south of town has been poor. The birds have winged their flight elsewhere and few good bags have been made the past week. A storm, accompanied by a heavy southeaster, however, will cause the ducks to return to the sloughs and lagoons of the marsh lands for protection against the elements, when shooting will be good again. Geese are plentiful, but they are a wary bird, and it is seldom that a hunter can sneak up and ground sluice them. They are generally bagged on the wing while flying over a blind, but unless the day be a foggy one they will even avoid a blind or fly so high that it is impossible to reach them with a shotgun.

A GRAND SUCCESS.

The Carnival of Nations Being Largely Attended.

All hail to the ladies of Sonoma Valley! Their Carnival for the benefit of Sonoma county's exhibit at the Midwinter Fair, opened with a grand march in which almost every nation was represented. The Fair is in every respect a great success. The interior of the Pavilion is embowered with flags, streamers, flowers and evergreens and what with the beautiful costumes of the ladies, the brilliant lights, and the playing of the grand march by the Sonoma Valley Band on the opening night, and which will be repeated this evening, there has never been anything to equal it in the county, even though Sonom is not quite so large as some of her sister towns. The booths, about a dozen in number, are artistically and elaborately decorated.

The attendance and receipts for both Thursday night and last evening were exceedingly gratifying.

This (Saturday) evening the Sonoma Valley Band of twenty pieces will play several selections, there will be a grand march of nations, dancing, a punch and judy show and many other attractions. A special excursion will be run by the Donahue railway from San Francisco to Sonoma and a large number of visitors from the metropolis will be present.

There will also be a childrens' matinee this afternoon commencing at 2 o'clock, which will be given under the direction of Miss Minnie Cook and Miss Susie Shaw, teachers of the Sonoma public school. It is expected that every girl and boy in the valley will be present.

As the ladies are working hard to show the outside world that Sonoma Valley is alive to the importance of our being represented at the Midwinter Fair, everybody should turn out to-night and contribute their mite toward encouraging the ladies who are working like Trojans for the interest of our valley.

CITY TRUSTEES.

The Long-Neglected Plaza at Last Gets Recognition.

The City Trustees got down to business again last Wednesday evening and transacted a great deal of business, for the most part appertaining to the public streets and the erection of a jail.

Trustee Schocken reported that he was in favor of leveling Spain street after the new bridge, which is being erected across the same, shall have been completed. His recommendation was received favorably and Trustee Trudgen was authorized to carry out the improvement.

Trustee Seipp recommended that the gutter on the south side of Napa street from the Bank building to Grothaus' corner be cleaned, and it was so ordered.

On motion of Trustee Trudgen it was ordered that Third-street West be improved. The Street Committee was also instructed to examine all streets within the corporate limits and report upon the condition of the same at the next meeting of the Board.

Twenty five dollars was appropriated for graveling Broadway. Additional sums were also voted for improving the streets as follows: Napa street, $25; Spain street, west of the plaza, $20; Third-street East, north of Spain street, $50; new cemetery road, $20.

One hundred and fifty dollars were also appropriated for the Plaza.

An iron stone pipe sewer was ordered to be constructed across Napa street from the south-east corner of the Plaza to Grethaus' corner.

Ordinance No. 44, making new rules and regulations governing the City Cemetery and public Receiving Vault, was passed without a dissenting vote.

All bids for the construction of a new Jail were rejected and Trustees Seipp and Litzius were appointed to secure new plans for a jail and to report at the next regular meeting.

The following bills were allowed and ordered paid: M. L. Charles, $12; F. Duhring, $20.30; H. H. Granice, $5.50; F. W. Bean, $35.50; J. M. Cheney, $3.25; George Spanning, $49; John Revie, $9; G. W. Sparks, $15; L. Foutts, $20; F. Breitenbach, $5.20; L. H. Green, $12.84; F. Foutts, $22; P. Baccala, $7; R. B. Lyon, $2.50; Vallejo Water Works, $12.50; Carl Dresel, $2; Nick Ahern, $2; F. Demartini, $2; H. J. Wilson, $2; C. Haderman $2; W. F. Wilson, $2.

The Trustees then adjourned.

An Important Committee.

The Executive Committee of the Sonoma County Midwinter Fair Association have appointed the following gentlemen as a committee for Sonoma Valley to collect exhibits and funds for Sonoma county's exhibit at the Fair: Hon. Robt. Howe, Judge F. Breitenbach, Capt. H. E. Boyes, Hugh G. Maxwell, H. H. Granice, E. K. Stevenot, Robt. Poppe, Dr. A. E. Osborne, T. S. Glaister.

DEATH OF MRS. ROBERT C. JOHNSON.

The News Received With Profound Sorrow.

No More Shall Her Deeds of Kindness Make Happy the Hearts of the Needy and Deserving.

Mrs. Robert C. Johnson died of pneumonia after an illness of only one week, last Sunday morning, at her home near this place. The Sunday preceding her death she complained of chillness and a tired feeling. The following day she took to her bed and the family physician, Dr. Luke Robinson of San Francisco, was sent for and upon his arrival at the bedside of the patient he found her suffering from a severe cold, which despite medical skill, rapidly developed into pneumonia. Up to within a few hours of her death Mrs. Johnson, who evidently did not realize that death was so near, was enabled to take the medicines prescribed by her physicians with her own hands.

On Saturday last Mrs. Johnson's condition became alarming, and at half-past one o'clock Sunday morning she passed so peacefully away that her attendants thought she was asleep.

The news of Mrs. Johnson's death created profound sorrow throughout Sonoma Valley, as she was a most benevolent, charitable and public spirited lady. She was the richest woman in Northern California, being worth several million dollars, and a great deal of her income, about $10,000 per month, was spent in dispensing charity to the needy and distressed. It is said of Mrs. Johnson that she never yet refused to respond promptly to any call upon her to assist the needy or to further a worthy public enterprize.

One of the last acts of charity performed by this good woman was coming to the aid of the Matson family in this place. While lying sick in bed she had a copy of the INDEX-TRIBUNE brought to her and asked her sister Mrs. Henry to read the local news to her. In that issue appeared an account of the misfortunes of the Matson family, and as soon as her sister had finished reading the article, Mrs. Johnson immediately ordered sent to them everything required to make the family comfortable. That was only a few days before she died, and as she grew worse she became delirious and in her wanderings she would ask: "Are you sure they have enough now?" "Are the babies hungry?" etc. We mention this incident to show that this good and charitable woman's mind, even up to the very last, dwelt constantly upon relieving the wants and sufferings of others.

Mrs. Johnson was a convert to the Catholic religion. She was a devout member of St. Francis' church in this city, to which she contributed liberally.

About ten years ago, Mrs. Johnson, after making a tour of the Old World, came to Sonoma to live. She had a magnificent city residence, but the climate of San Francisco not agreeing with her, she decided to locate here permanently, because, as she stated to the writer a few years ago, she had failed to find in all her travels a more lovely, healthful or charming spot than our beautiful Sonoma Valley. She had already acquired the Buena Vista ranch, comprising several hundreds of acres of land, which she at once proceeded to improve and beautify. A magnificient mansion was erected and furnished with the most costly of furniture, paintings and bric-a-bric. Lawns and flower beds were laid out and a small forest of evergreens and flowering shrubs were set out which surrounded the mansion on all sides. The ranch was also put under a thorough state of cultivation and stocked with fine horses and cattle. The making of these improvements was more for the purpose of spending her money among the working people than for mere show, and during her ten years residence in Sonoma this good woman has dispensed thousands of dollars among our valley people in the way of wages, not to mention large sums of money devoted to charity.

Mrs. Johnson was the widow of Robert C. Johnson, who died in Paris five years ago, leaving her an estate valued at $3,000,000. This inheritance, together with an independent fortune which she already possessed — about $2,500,000 — made her a very wealthy woman.

The deceased leaves two sisters who reside in San Francisco, Mrs. R. B. Kellogg and Mrs. Elizabeth Henry. There is another sister, Mrs. Sarah J. Dillayn, in Syracuse, New York, and a brother, Henry Birdsall, at Addison, New York.

How she disposed of her property is not known, but it is expected that much of it will be given for charitable purposes, although her family will be handsomely provided for.

The remains were taken to San Francisco on Monday to be interred in Oakland. The funeral took place from her residence 605 O'Farrell street, last Tuesday morning.

The remains of her adopted daughter, Rosalind Johnson, who died a few years ago in this place and which repose in Buena Vista Park, will be disinterred and laid to rest beside those of Mrs. Johnson.

SONOMA'S BLOCK QUARRIES.

One Hundred Additional Men Employed—Heavy Shipments.

The hotels and boarding houses of Sonoma are crowded with blockmakers, who have been employed to get out basalt paving blocks in the quarries north of town for shipment to San Francisco. One hundred additional men were hired this week by S. Schocken. In consequence of the revival of this industry the town presents a lively and business-like appearance. The shipments of blocks the past week over the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway amounted to one hundred car loads. The reopening of the Sonoma basalt block quarries will make times brisk, as they will give employment not only to hundreds of blockmakers, but also to numbers of teamsters.

Fire at El Verano.

On Friday night of last week while the officials of El Verano were absent on a visit to Sonoma, one of the picturesque cottages belonging to the Improvement Company was set on fire and destroyed The structure was valued at $1,200 and was burned clean to the ground. The finger of suspicion points strongly to a tramp as being the incendiary, who, no doubt, availed himself in this instance of what is known as lex taliones or the law of retaliation. While the storm of last week was raging at its bitterest a homeless vagabond happened along and sought shelter from the raging elements in El Verano's "brick block." The High Sheriff of that city, hearing of this was immediately seized with a conniption fit, and while the tramp was absent that official dumped the rash intruder's valise and blankets into the teeming rain, and the tramp was forced to move on. But that he moved back again on the night mentioned and dried his wearing apparel and blankets before the blaze of the burning cottage there seems now to be little doubt. The following day the High Sheriff, accompanied by one of El Verano's most skillful detectives, worked with unflagging energy the surrounding country and foothills for some trace of the fleeing fire bug, but alas! 'twas in vain, for ye tramp had completely vamoosed leaving no trace behind him save a dark and blackened spot where once a cosy looking cottage decked the smiling plain.

Generous Merchants.

Messrs. Stewart & Co., 513 Sansome street and Dalton Bros, 310 Davis street, commission merchants of San Francisco, donated the tropical fruits sold at the Carnival of Nations Fair Thursday and Friday evenings. The former firm contributed the bananas and pine apples and the latter firm the oranges. The gift was greatly appreciated by the ladies having the Fair in hand, and tended to aid materially to the receipts which will be applied to Sonoma's exhibit at the Midwinter Fair.

SONOMA, SATURDAY, DEC. 9, 1893.

THE SHUT EYE TRAIN.

Come, my little one, with me!
There are wondrous sights to see
As the evening shadows fall;
In your pretty cap and gown,
Don't detain
The Shut Eye train—
"Ting-a-ling!" the bell it goeth,
"Toot, toot!" the whistle bloweth,
And we hear the warning call,
"All aboard for Shut Eye Town!"

Over hill and over plain
Soon will speed the Shut Eye train!
Through the blue where bloom the stars
And the Mother Moon looks down.
We'll away
To land of Fay—
Oh, the sights that we shall see there!
Come, my little one, with me there—
'Tis a goodly train of cars—
All aboard for Shut Eye Town.

Swifter than a wild bird's flight
Through the realms of fleecy light,
We shall speed and speed away!
Let the night in envy frown—
What care we
How wroth she be!
To the Balowy land above us,
To the Balow folk who love us,
Let us hasten while we may—
All aboard for Shut Eye Town!

Shut Eye Town is passing fair—
Golden dreams await us there:
We shall dream those dreams, my dear,
Till the Mother Moon goes down—
See unfold
Delights untold!
And in those mysterious places
We shall see beloved faces
And beloved voices hear
In the grace of Shut Eye Town!

Heavy are your eyes, my sweet,
Weary are your little feet—
Nestle closer up to me
In your pretty cap and gown!
Don't detain
The Shut Eye train!
"Ting-a-ling!" the bell it goeth.
"Toot, toot!" the whistle bloweth—
Oh, the sights that we shall see!
All aboard for Shut Eye Town!

German Bulls.

A German newspaper man, evidently jealous of the Irishman's reputation as a maker of bulls, took the trouble some years ago to look up the German record in this line. Among others he found in the published works of certain Teutonic writers the following curious examples: "Among the immigrants was an old blind woman, who came to America once more before she died to see her only son." "After the door was closed a soft female foot slipped into the room, and with her own hand extinguished the taper." "Both doctors were unable to restore the deceased once more to life and health." "The Ladies' Benefit association has distributed 20 pairs of shoes among the poor, which will dry up many a tear." "I was at the table enjoying a cup of coffee, when a gentle voice tapped me on the shoulder. I looked around and saw my old friend once more."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Accomplishments of a Montana Girl.

Paul Van Cleve, a member of the Montana legislature, owns a big sheep ranch in that state. His daughter Helen, aged 14 years, is his constant companion in his rides about the ranch and is reputed to be one of the most accomplished riders in that part of the country. She is a picturesque figure on horseback, as she dresses somewhat after the cowboy style, wearing trousers, colored shirt and broad sombrero, and rides in the true cowboy fashion, often bareback. She is also a good shot with the rifle. Although living in an isolated spot, Mr. Van Cleve has had his children carefully educated, and his home is one of refinement, being in fact a social gathering place for ranch owners for miles around.—Illinois State Register.

Making It Pleasant.

Lady (to her cook)—I am now going to the seaside, Mary. You can come home late from the market, or let the milk burn as often as you like. Now and again you can take anything the butcher offers you, and if it is too tough you can let master grumble as much as he pleases, otherwise his newly acquired freedom will appear altogether couleur de rose.—Wiener Figaro.

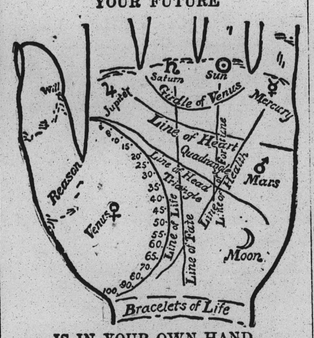
YOUR FUTURE



IS IN YOUR OWN HAND.

Palmistry assumes to tell what the lines in your hand indicate. It will amuse you, if nothing more. The above diagram almost explains itself. The length of the LINE OF LIFE indicates probable age to which you will live. Each BRACELET gives you thirty years. Well-marked LINE OF HEAD denotes brain power; clear LINE OF FORTUNE, fame or riches. Both combined mean success in life; but you must keep up with modern ideas to win it. You will find plenty of these in Demorest's Family Magazine, so attractively presented that every member of the family is entertained. It is a dozen magazines in one. A CLEAR LINE OF HEART bespeaks tenderness; a straight LINE OF FATE, peaceful life; the reverse is crooked. A well-defined LINE OF HEALTH spares you doctors' bills; so will the health hints in Demorest's. No other magazine publishes so many stories to interest the home circle. You will be subject to extremes of high spirits or despondency if you have the GIRDLE OF VENUS well marked; keep up your spirits by having Demorest's Magazine to read. By subscribing to it for 1894 you will receive a gallery of exquisite works of art of great value, besides the superb premium picture, 17x22 inches, "I'm a Daisy!" which is almost a real baby, and equal to the original oil painting which cost $300; and you will have a magazine that cannot be equaled by any in the world for its beautiful illustrations and subject matter, that will keep you posted on all the topics of the day, and all the fads, and different items of interest about the household, besides furnishing interesting reading matter, both grave and gay, for the whole family; and while Demorest's is not a fashion magazine, its fashion pages are perfect, and you get with it, free of cost, all the patterns you wish to use during the year, and in any size you choose. Send in your subscription at once, only $2.00, and you will really get over $25.00 in value. Address the publisher, W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York. If you are unacquainted with the Magazine, send for a specimen copy. A large QUADRANGLE means honesty; a large TRIANGLE, generosity; long FIRST DIVISION OF THUMB, strong will; LONG SECOND DIVISION, reasoning faculty. The MOUNT OF JUPITER betokens ambition; that of SATURN, prudence; the SUN, love of splendor; MARS, courage; MOON, imagination; VENUS, love of pleasure; and MERCURY, intelligence. Take our advice as above and you will be sure to possess the last and most valuable quality.

My wife was troubled with nervousness about one year before she took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, and at that time had very severe attacks of spasm, convulsion, and pains in different parts of the body; when in this state her lower jaws would act violently and set sometimes, bite her tongue, breathe heavily, then short, then seemed to stop entirely, get a wild look in her eyes and rolling around, then stop sometimes; it would take two men to hold her in bed otherwise her body would cramp and be so for two hours. She took but two bottles of the Nerve Tonic, which cured her entirely of all these torments, which myself and wife gladly testify it truly had the desired effect D. S. M'GILLIS.

Mrs. Ester Devilbiss, 354 S. Tenth street, San Jose, Cal., writes, October 1893: Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic has indeed done wonders in my part of the country. There has been bought in my neighborhood over $75 worth.

I cured a Curb of long standing. These statements can be proven, if necessary; the four year olds are now seven and can be seen any day at Cottage Grove, Or. S. Z. PAXTON.
